

REEL # 53A

- 7280-B - not scratchy
7281-A - not complete - with track
7281-B - DISTORTED - Bad tracking
7282-A - " "
7282-B - NOT complete -
DIST. - Bad tracking not complete -

Capt. Maynard Corp,
Lunenburg Talking about customs, weaving & home life

Talk on Bluenose, Capt. Angus
Walters, slightly scratchy, gets worse

FS630
23.73.2
MF289.147

188B. Stories.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

May 17, 1944.

Bayport, Lunenburg County, Nova Scotia.

Informant; Captain Maynard Colp. For particulars see 188A.

These are further stories of his experiences told with the accent which is typical of this part of the province.

189A & B.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

May 17, 1944.

Lunenburg, Nova Scotia.

Informant; Angus Walters, captain of the famous Bluenose, undefeated champion of the fishing fleet. These stories and those on 190 were told by the Captain one afternoon in the office of the dairy which he is now running. He misses the Bluenose very much, and misses the sea life. I hope these recprts are all right. The thread was very fine, and I had difficulty in getting it adjusted.

It used to be very exciting when the international races were held here. We could see nearly all of it from our house. There were some stormy sessions according to all reports, for racing was something new in the lives of the fishermen. It was beautiful to watch, and many people followed the course from start to finish. Shores on either side of the harbor were lined with people. Curiously enough, no builder has ever been able to duplicate the Bluenose.

190A & B. Stories of the Bluenose.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

May 17, 1944.

Lunenburg, Nova Scotia.

Informant; Captain Angus Walters, captain of the Bluenose, undefeated champion of the North Atlantic fishing fleet. See also 189 A & B.