29 A&B. Irish Folk Song. ~~Edmund~~ Erin Far Away. Use 29B

Recorded by Helen Creighton

June 10, 1948

At Eastern Passage

Erin Far Away. For text see Songs and Ballads From Nova Scotia,
p. 71. 146

Singers; Edmund and Lawrence Henneberry; Devil's Island fisherman.

The singers got "all tangled up into it" and forgot the next verse, which accounts for the song stopping in the middle. When they finally got it straight again and realized the song was in my book, they picked the verses up in a different key. Since this spoiled the continuity, we had to record part of it again, and they decided they preferred the higher key. Hence on 29B you have the whole song, but with the last verses on the first strip, and the first verses on the last.
