Band

Record number 42B. ³¹⁴ Quaker's Courtship.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

August 8, 1943.

Eastern Passage, at Mr. Alex. Henneberry's house.

Folk-song.

Singer; Mr. Ben Henneberry, Devil's Island; aged 80; fisherman.

Madame I have come a-courting, Oh dear,
Not for pleasure, not for sporting, Oh dear.

For rest of text see Songs and Ballads From Nova Scotia, p. 46.

There may be another song on this record. I see there is a break, but I have no note to tell me what it is.

- 1 Quaker's Courtship
2. ³¹⁵ False Knight Upon the Road.
3. ³¹⁶ Robin Hood's Progress to Nottingham.

Ben Henneberry.

Record number 43A. Turkish Lady. Rover

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

August 8, 1943.

Eastern Passage, at Mr. Alex. Henneberry's house.

English folk-song.

Singer; Mr. Ben Henneberry, Devil's Island; aged 80; fisherman.

You pretty virgins I pray draw near,
A pretty stary you shall hear.

For rest of text see Songs and Ballads From Nova Scotia, p. 26.

It is possible that I have made a mistake here, and that 43A should be Well Sold the Cow and the Turkish Lady 43B. Will you please check on these when they are played and give them the proper numbers.

317 1. Well Sold the Cow. (Incomplete & faulty).

318 2. Turkish ^{Rover} Lady. (Good.)

1. Mount A re-recording tape No. 5; well sung for Mr. Henneberry but his difficult articulation very noticeable. Sung in full. SBNS p. 29

2. Mount A re-recording tape No. 5 (clock strikes); well sung but words not too clear though not much surface noise.
SBNS p. 26

319

Record number 43B. Well Sold the Cow.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

August 8, 1943.

Eastern Passage, at Mr. Alex Henneberry's house.

English folk-song.

Singer; Mr. Ben Henneberry, Devil's Island; aged 80; fisherman.

Come all you good people a story I'll tell,
It's of a rich farmer in Yorkshire did dwell.

This For rest of text see Songs and Ballads From Nova Scotia, p. 29, and for the same song to a different tune, see Twelve Folk-Songs
From Nova Scotia, p. 36.

Please check to see whether this should be 43 A or 43B.

See 43 A

Record number ⁴40A. Lord Randal.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

August 8, 1943.

Eastern Passage, at Mr. Alex. Henneberry's house.

Singer; Mr. Ben Henneberry, Devil's Island; aged 80; fisherman.

What is the matter Henery my son,
What is the matter my own dearest one?

For rest of text see Twelve Folk-Songs From Nova Scotia, p.22.

Ballad. (See Child 12). It is interesting to note the folk-singer's treatment of this dramatic ballad.

Mount A re-recording tape No. 12 good clear tape, words quite clear

TS 45 p. 9

321
Record number 44B. Hind Horn.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

August 8, 1943.

Eastern Passage, at Mr. Alex. Henneberry's house.

Ballad. (See Child 17).

Singer; Mr. Ben Henneberry, Devil's Island; aged 80; fisherman.

Where were you bred and where were you born?
In old Scotland I was bred and born.

This is a very rare and ancient ballad. Mr. Henneberry himself thought he probably had not sung it for sixty years.

Record number 45A. ³²⁰ Jack Robson.

Recorded by Helen Creighton.

August 8, 1943.

Eastern Passage. at Mr. Alex. Henneberry's house.

Privateering song.

Singer; Mr. Ben Henneberry, Devil's Island; aged 80; fisherman.

My voyage is over and home at last
My good ship in Portsmouth arrived at last.
