Mr. M.D. Mattson, 103 Byng Ave., called the Police Station and reported that he heard some men talking on the street outside his house and from their conversation, it seems someone has been assaulted in Wentworth Park and in need of medical attention.

Cars 1 - 3 and 4 responded.

Further to the above Cpl. Martin MacDonald reported two men had been stabbed - one in serious condition and required an ambulance. T.W. Curry's were notified and responded; also Det. M.R. MacDonald who took over the investigation.

On arrival, noticed Sandy Seale of Westmount on the ground; after apparently being felled by stab wounds - inflicted apparently from a person or persons who had fled the scene. Seale's intestines were visible and a considerable amount of blood had been lost as a result of the stabbing. The family were notified. A companion, Donald Marshall also treated and released.

Received a call from Sgt. MacGillivray that Mr. Mattson, 106 Byng Ave., called and said he thought someone was stabbed in the park. At this time, I was on the parking lot at St. Joseph's Hall where a dance was taking place.

We proceeded to Byng Ave. at a fast speed and not seeing anyone around at 106 kept going towards the Esplanade and at this time, received a call from the Station that they went over behind the Drug Store, Polletts, Corner of George and Argyle St. I turned around at Byng and Charlotte and sped towards the Drug Store and went in behind the building but could not see anyone around this area.

We, Cpl. M. McDonald, then turned of Argyle unto Crescent St. and checking along the grass and at this time up ahead of me, I could see someone standing in the middle of the road waving his hands to come on. On arrival Jr. Marshall was standing on the road waving his hands and a fellow laying on the pavement. I jumped out of the car and Marshall said he and his buddy, Sandy Seale were stabbed.

I checked Seale briefly and then called for an ambulance at which time Const. Walsh and Mros in Car # 3 came in off Bentinck St. Marshall told me it was a tall fellow with white hair and a short fellow. He showed me the knife wound on his left arm so I said to Const. Walsh, I will take Marshall to the hospital and I left immediately for the City Hospital.

At this time as a result of a Police Call to the vicinity of 108 Byng Ave. re a stabbing, all cars on the town side were dispatched to the area. Cars 1 - 4 - 3. I was in Car # 3 and picked up Cst. Leo Mroz and went to the Wentworth Park area.

Cst. Howard Dean and Cpl. Martin MacDonald arrived first at the scene and Cst. Dean radioed that the incident happened on Crescent St. We immediately were on the scene.

Cst. Dean had one Donald Junior Marshall, who had been stabbed in the left arm and told me he would take Marshall to the hospital, and I and Mroz would stand by to wait for an ambulance to convey one Sandy Seale to hospital.

Seale at this time was lying on his left side on the pavement on Crescent St. I approached the youth on the ground and moved his jacket to the extent of his injury and on moving his shirt, I observed his intestines protruding from the opening in his abdomen. Curry's ambulance responded to the scene and Seale was removed to City Hospital where he was taken to surgery immediately by Doctor Maavi. The only remark made by Seale other than moans of pain was in the hospital on the table in the outpatient room when he said "I can't breathe" After we left the hospital, Cst. Mroz and I went to all open restaurants to check for two suspects described by Donald Marshall, I checked the Wandlyn Motel; Cape Bretoner Motel and the Isle Royal Motel re any parties checking in through the night but to no avail.

Also checked some of the taxis as to whether two men had been taken anywhere. At the scene on Crescent St., I was unable to come up with an eye witness as to what had taken place. Sandy Seale had been at the dance at St. Joseph's and observed there by Cst. John Mallowney.

There were several people on Crescent St. who live where this incident took place who might be able to give something further. At this time we could not leave the street to question these people.

Interviewed the following boys on May 30th - at the Dixon Home - Westmount:

Donald Noseworthy, age 15, 110 Fairhaven Drive and Gaye Dixon, age 16, 1155 Westmount Road, Westmount:

Left dance at 11:45 P.M. - the two of us got the bus for Westmount on the Esplanade. G.Dixon stated he drew a fake stamp on Sandy Seale's hand and on his own; and also on D. Noseworthy -Lester drew his own, or got ~~somebody~~ somebody else to do it. Sandy was turned away by the Police. Elaine, my sister, got the bus down the road from us. She was alone.

June 1-1971 - Interviewed James Cotie, address - 220 George St. Sydney, N.S., as a report received from P.C. John Mallowney was that Cotie was in Wentworth Park and was also stabbed. Examined Cotie's body and found burn marks on his back. He indicated to us that he had fallen down the stairs at his home with the baby carriage at 220 George St. and this is what happened to his back. A story which could be true. They were definitely not stab marks on his back as reported.

May 31, 1971 - Interviewed Keith Beaver in regard to Alanna Dixon's story and the only change that I found in his story was that they were talking with Sandy Seale leaving the dance and that he walked down George St. with them - that Sandy did not enter the Park at that time. He kept on down George by himself. The Dixon girl stated that Sandy walked through the Park in her statement but went over the bank to the railway track.

I was at St. Joseph's Dance Hall last Friday night. I was with Debbie McPherson, Keltic Drive and left the hall about 11:45 P.M. because she wanted to get the North Sydney bus home. We walked down to Wentworth Park. We were there for 5 to 10 minutes; so we walked up on to Crescent St. She noticed Sandy Seale lying down on the roadside. I went over. I noticed it was Sandy and I asked him what was the matter. He told me he was stabbed and he needed help. I told her to go get a bus and I ran and tried to find a person to help me. I ran across the Park up to Polletts and I found a boy named Livingston from East Bay. He was with a girl at the time. So we ran back down through the park and up to Crescent St., but by the time we were getting up to him a car slowed down and a Marshall boy got out. Junior said I was with him and he showed me his arm and so I told him we should go to a house and call the police. He said No. So I talked to him and both of us went to a house there and I said "Call the Police. Jr. Marshall showed this man his arm. When we got back from the house, 2 police cars arrived.

So the Police questioned me and told me to leave. I went home with Bruce Butt from Westmount. I met him at Harris' corner after I left the scene.

A. Yes, he said a man with glasses and a younger man with him. Jr. said the man with the glasses stabbed Sandy and said that is for you Buddy and then Jr. said he tried to get away and he stabbed him in the arm.

8 June 1971

Statement of Marvel Dwight Mattson, 103 Byng Ave., Sydney, N.S.

I reside at 103 Byng Ave., Sydney, Nova Scotia

About ten minutes before midnight of May 28, 1971, I went upstairs to go to bed. The bedroom is on the Wentworth Park side of the house. I was in the bedroom a matter of a few minutes when I heard talking coming from the street; the window was open. I paid little attention until I heard someone say, "there's someone bleeding in the park". I went to the window, but couldn't see anyone. They were below the verandah and also I had turned off the outside light before going upstairs.

I immediately called the City of Sydney City Police from the upstairs telephone to report what I had heard. I continued to watch from the window in the upstairs hall - next to the telephone. There was more conversation, but I couldn't make it out. Then a car came along and a man stopped it in the middle of the street. He had walked out from the sidewalk in front of my house. He showed the driver his arm and it was again said, "there's someone bleeding in the park" and with that he got in the car and it drove off towards George St. I kept an eye on it and believe it went down George towards Argyle. I again called the police to report further on what I had seen.

In a matter of a minute or so of the first telephone call I saw a car with flashing lights on Crescent St. and very shortly afterwards another vehicle showed up which I took to be an ambulance.

Tim Lynch from Byng Ake was in the station and said he picked up a man who said he lived in Lunenburg and he appeared to be very much upset about the Stopping. He was with Wayne Nichols - He assumed Nichols knew this fellow from Lunenburg -

I think you should check with Lynch - He's Louis son.
From what Lynch told me it seems this Lunenburg man witnessed the stopping.

Dear Chief:

I am writing this letter in regards to a stabbing and eventual death of Sanford William Seale one of our constituent.

We at the Black United Front and the Black residents of Sydney are deeply concerned over this matter and are watching the progress of this case with the greatest of interest.

"We would like to be assured that everything possible is being done to insure against any further incidents. We are hoping for a quick and speedy apprehension of the assailant or assailants. As I mentioned the community is concerned of what progress is being made and lack of information is creating further frustrations."

I would appreciate as much information on the case as you can release without hindering your investigation.

Sincerely yours

P.A. Winn

Judge Charles O'Connell

RE: Mr. Roy Ebsary
68 Falmouth Street
Sydney, N.S.

Dear Judge O'Connell:

I saw the above mentioned, Mr. Roy Ebsary, at the request of the court on Monday, March 22nd, 1982. I had a rather long conversation with Mr. Ebsary, who in many ways is a rather charming old gentleman.

However, the offense with which he is charged is serious indeed and so I should concern myself with his fitness to plead and question of diminished criminal responsibility in this case. In view of the seriousness of the charge, I feel under a strong obligation to recommend to the court that Mr. Ebsary be referred to the Nova Scotia Hospital on a 30-day Warrant of Remand to establish not only his fitness to plead but also the question of diminished criminal responsibility.

Obviously, Mr. Ebsary is eccentric. I have no way of really knowing whether, in fact, most of the story he tells me about his past are true or untrue; whether, in fact, he was a "gun captain" in the British Navy or Royal Navy or whether, in fact, he is the possessor of a distinguished service medal, which he said was given to him personally by the late Sir Winston Churchill, or the Croix de Guerre apparently given by the late General DeGaulle. He also tells me that he was present at the sinking of the Bismark and so on.

Amongst other things, Mr. Ebsary claims to have written eight books, all on biblical matters, and tells me one is now in its third printing.

In general, I find his story quite bizzare but I also found him vague, somewhat deficient in recent memory, rather unsteady on his feet and with a tendency to fainting when he bends down.

For several years he has been under the close medical supervision of Dr. Peter Cardew, who is, unfortunately, no longer a resident in this area.

I would therefore suggest, your Honor, that a copy of this letter be sent to the Psychiatric Forensic Unit, Nova Scotia Hospital so that certain tests could be done on Mr. Ebsary particularly, I think, a EEG under revealing conditions and a CAT Scan, if they feel this necessary.

Sincerely,

C. Donovan, M.D.

Dear Mr. Gale:

RE: EBSARY, Roy Newman

The above-named individual was remanded to this Hospital by order of Magistrate Charles O'Connell of Sydney, N.S., dated the 30th day of March, 1982, for a 30 day period of observation pursuant to Section 543.2 1 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

We have examined this individual and conducted the necessary investigations.

Roy is a 70 year old separated male who was born and brought up at St. John's Newfoundland as the oldest of 12 children in the family (three boys and nine girls). His father was a seaman and a chief steward on a passenger liner. The mother was a housewife. Roy states that he was reared by his maternal grandmother. The grandmother's own son (Roy's uncle Samuel) had been killed in World War I and she adopted Roy as a substitute. Roy states that she gave him everything that he needed or wanted and he had a very happy childhood. About two years ago Roy's 'father' Albert called him and told him that he, Roy, was actually fathered by his uncle, Samuel. Albert died shortly after telling Roy about this. The mother had died a year before that.

Roy has a high school education. After completing high school he worked as a machine operator with a lumber company for eight years. Then he joined the Merchant Marine. He was in the Merchant Navy for approximately 20 years. He claims that he started as an apprentice seaman and achieved the position of captain or chief engineer. He also claims that during the war years he was in the Royal Navy and that he saw action in the Atlantic as well as the Pacific Ocean. Many of these claims reflect a streak of grandiosity and are contradicted by objective accounts available to us. According to his wife he was never more than an assistant cook in the Navy. Following his marine career Roy worked as a cook at the Isle Royal Hotel. He has not been employed since 1959. He claims that he has spent most of his time since 1959 writing books. Again there is no objective evidence to support this claim which appears to be a figment of his grandiose mind.

Roy lived with his wife in a common-law relationship for many years before finally marrying her. Mrs. Ebsary had four children from a previous union and had two more children from Roy, a boy 27 and a girl, 22. The girl resides in Boston and the boy is living in the Sydney area.

Roy's wife describes him as a self-centered grandiose person who had a serious drinking problem since his teenage years. He was violent towards her as well as the children especially when he was drunk. She states that after the birth of their daughter their relationship deteriorated markedly. He started bringing home younger men and was angry when she questioned him about his relationship with them. She caught him in bed with these young men on a number of occasions but was afraid to confront him because of fear of reprisals. She eventually separated from him two years ago. Roy claims that even after their separation he maintained a friendly relationship with his wife but this assertion is disputed by the latter.

After the separation from his wife Roy moved to an apartment where he apparently indulged in his fondness for drinking and entertained similiarly inclined friends.

Roy is known as an eccentric old man in the community. He is said to have decorated his room like a ship. He tells everybody that he was a gunnery captain in the Royal Navy and was present at the sinking of "Bismark". He also claims that he was decorated personally by Winston Churchill and Charles De Gaulle and he has a number of war medals to support this claims. It is believed that these medals were bought in a pawn shop.

On examination, Roy presented as a white-haired male with a triangular, grey beard and a mustache. He wore black rimmed glasses which were patched up with adhesive tape. His hair was dishevelled. At the time of admission he was in considerable physical distress complaining of pain in his stomach and other parts of his body. He was slow in answering questions and sometimes groped in his memory for long periods before answering them. His speech was coherent and well organized. However, as mentioned above, it was full of references to his accomplishments in the Royal Navy and in his writing career

Roy was able to give a reasonably detailed account of the circumstances leading to the alleged offence. He asserted his innocence and stated that he had had a couple of drinks of wine and was sleepy throughout the episode in question.

On being questioned Roy described "metaphysical" experiences in which he saw people that he had known in his past. These were not hallucinatory experiences as Roy believed that other people were capable of experiencing the same or similar parapsychological phenomena.

Subsequent investigations showed that Roy was suffering from chronic heart disease, chronic obstructive lung disease as well as stomach ulcers. Because of his age and the history of excessive drinking, special attention was paid to his neurological status. A neurological examination was within normal limits. An P E.G. showed minor abnormalities which were consistent with but not diagnostic of Organic Brain Disease. A C.T. scan was done at the Victoria General Hospital on March 31, 1982 and this was reported as normal.

Although the above mentioned neurological investigations did not show substantial pathology, clinical observation during the 30 day period showed Roy's sensorium to be intermittently clouded. There were periods when he was lucid but on other occasions he showed disorientation to time as well as place and his memory of very recent events seemed to be grossly impaired. For example, one afternoon he did not remember that he had had a series of X-ray in the morning. His account of the happenings of recent past also varied from day to day. After careful analysis of these observations we came to the conclusion that Roy suffered from significant impairment of his brain functions. This conclusion was supported by psychological test results

In summary, Roy Ebsary is an elderly male who has presented a picture of Chronic Organic Brain Syndrome due to alcoholism, senile brain disease, the cerebral effects of heart and lung disease or a combination of all these factors. Although Roy has many days when he is completely lucid, his sensorium cannot be reliably predicted to be clear on any given day. His grandiose stories, many of which are probably confabulated, add to the unreliability of his account. We believe that this instability of his mental state renders Roy incapable of giving a consistent account to his Defence Counsel and of following the court proceedings in a rational manner. We, therefore, consider him unfit to stand his trial.

The prognosis for restoration to fitness is not clear at this stage. It may be that much of the brain impairment is still reversible and after several months of being away from alcohol his sensorium will improve. On the other hand, it is quite possible that the combination of factors mentioned above will lead to further deterioration in his mental state. In view of the uncertainty of this prognosis as well as of the seriousness of the charges against Roy, we recommend that he should be returned to court for a judicial determination of the fitness issue.

His remand expires on April 29, 1982 and we recommend that he be removed from the hospital prior to that date.

Very sincerely yours,
