CUMULATIVE SUMMARY - SYNTHÈSE DU CAS

LIFERS PROJECT REPORT

Name/Nom:

MARSHALL, Donald John Jr.

Institution:

Springhill Medium

File: FPS 410491A

Dossier:

On July 11, 1978, the writer, along with Marshall's L.U.D.O., Kim Thompson, and his Range Officer, Chuck Sconehouse, interviewed Marshall. The purpose of this interview was to go over with Marshall the results of the community assessment, to discuss with him the upcoming Atlantic Challenge Program, and to discuss where we will go from here in terms of managing the case.

Marshall was asked to speculate what he expected the community assessment would say and, in fact, himself drew a fairly accurate picture of the community situation. Marshall agreed with the writer that any release planned for him in the future must be away from the Cape Breton area.

In response to a question from the writer, Marshall agreed that he had been a troublemaker in the community of Sydney although he had not presented many problems on the Reserve itself. However, Marshall pointed out that he was only one of a group of troublemakers. He describes himself and his associates at the time as a group of dropouts who were going nowhere and were frustrated.

As could be expected, the issue of Marshall's guilt or innocence was again raised. Marshall was informed by the writer and by Institutional staff that, from our point of view, whether or not he actually committed the offence was no longer important. What was important, was the fact that the picure presented of him in the community assessment as well as his behaviour in the Institution earlier this spring, had led us to the conclusion that Marshall was the sort of individual who could have committed a murder. Somehwat surprisingly, Marshall agreed that this was the case. Feelings were expressed by staff that Marshall, in fact, was still the same sort of person and Marshall, himself, did not contradict this impression although he did not explicitly agree either.

The Atlantic Challenge Program, which Marshall has been approved for, was discussed with him at some length. It was pointed out to Marshall that, although there is a good deal of fun involved, there is also a good deal of hard work in battling nature and the elements. It was pointed out to Marshall that some of his pent up feelings of anger, hostility, and bitterness may well come to the surface when he is in that sort of setting. The fact that other individuals on the boat wouldbe relying on him was stressed to Marshall and various methods of handling his negative feelings were discussed with him. It was also pointed out to Marshall that he should not regard this day parole to take part in Atlantic Challenge as part of a continual release program for him.

In view of the feelings of the writer and of Institutional personnel that Marshall is still the same sort of individual who could commit murder or another violent offence, considerable discussion centered on what Harshall would have to do in order to change this situacion. Marshall was informed that not only would he have to change his behaviour, but that he would also have to change his personality, his attitudes, and his responses to situations and people. As an example, it was pointed out to Marshall that not only would he have to not express the bitterness and hatred that he has inside himself but that he would also have to get rid of these feelings completely. It was the first with the second court with the straight of a court of a conjugation of a court of a court of a court pointed out to Marshall that we realized that we were asking a great deal of him and were requesting him to work on a lot but that this was the only way for him to work himself out on to T.A.'s, day parole, and eventually on to parole. It was stressed that none of these releases were foreseen as being in the immediate future for him.

At the same time, Marshall was also informed that we recognized the efforts he has been making in recent months in terms of strictly following the plan drawn up for him by institutional personnel. It was in fact, in large part because of these positive efforts on his part, that Marshall was recommended for Atlantic Challenge.

Unlike previous interviews, Marshall did not appear to become unduly frustrated or angry. Although it is not felt, by the writer at least, that Marshall totally grasped what we were saying, it is felt that the import of our words will come to him when he reflects on the interview. Marshall was also informed that, in the future, we will be having other sessions with him similar to this one.

Marshall appeared, on the whole, to be satisfied with the results of this most recent interview.

Legal Events Ending with Incarceration:

On November 5, 1971, following a trial by judge and jury in Sydney, Nova Scotia, Donald Marshall Jr. was convicted of non-capital murder for the killing by stabbing of Sanford Seale, a 17-year-old Negro individual. Marshall was sentenced by Judge L. Dubinsky of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court to the mandatory sentence of life imprisonment. An appeal against the conviction was subsequently dismissed. There were no accomplices in the crime.

Antecedent & Precipitating Circumstances:

Donald Marshall Jr. was born on September 13, 1953, in Sydney, Nova Scotia, the third eldest of twelve children born to Donald and Rita Marshall. The father, Donald Marshall, is the Honorary Chief of the Mic Mac Tribe in Nova Scotia and has been employed as a plasterer for most of his adult life. The mother, Rita Marshall, has generally been employed outside the home doing maintenance work. Marshall describes his childhood as an average one although noting that he was generally brought up by habysitters. He began school at the age of six and for the first two years attended school on the Indian Reserve. However, from grade three on, Marshall attended a school in town where the majority of the other students were Caucasians. From this time on he began to have trouble in school and this eventually culminated in his being expelled in grade seven after having assaulted his teacher. During the period between his leaving school and his present incarceration, Marshall held a variety of short term jobs in the labour field but was generally employed as a plasterer's helper with his father.

Marshall describes himself as a child as a shy, sneaky, organizer type who enjoyed getting into pranks such as petty theft and smashing things. He also notes that he was kicked out of Air Cadets at the age of thirteen for stealing. Marshall further admits to a juvenile criminal record for assault. Marshall's involvement in criminal activity continued after his turning sixteen and included theft, supplying liquor to a minor, robbery with violence, and a number of charges for fighting or creating a disturbance.

On May 28, 1971, there had been a dance at a local hall which both Marshall and the victim, Sandy Seale, had attended. Marshall and Seale were well known to each other and had played hockey together in the past. According to evidence presented, Marshall and Seale left the dance together and became involved in an argument while walking down the street. During the course of this argument, Marshall apparently removed a knife from his pocket and plunged it into the stomach of Seale. Seale was alive when taken to the hospital but died the following afternoon. Marshall was arrested approximately a week later.

It should be noted that, with one exception, Marshall has consistently denied that he is guilty of the offence. He maintains that he was present at the scene but that the offence was committed by an unknown assailant. Marshall states that his only part in the incident was to attempt to get medical help for the victim. Marshall also states that he himself was stabbed in the arm.

Marshall was admitted to Dorchester Penitentiary on June 2° , 1972. He was nineteen years of age at the time.

Profile of Presenting Problems uron Admission to Custody:

The Classification Reception Report described Marshall as a cooperative young Indian lad who was defensive during interviews and showed some signs of hostility when describing the offence. It was suggested that Marshall be retained in maximum security institution until such time as he was prepared to accept his lengthy sentence or until all appeals had been exhausted.

Initial psychological testing completed by J. G. Leger noted that Marshall had an average I.Q. and revealed him to be an egocentric, non-empathic, antisocial type of individual who showed signs of aggressivity and hostility along with a high level of frustration. It was further felt that he was suspicious, irritable, impatient, and tended to blame others for his present difficulties. It was recommended that Marshall should remain in Dorchester Penitentiary and should become involved in individual counselling.

Discernible Phases or Trends in Inmate's Behaviour * Attitude:

Admitted to Dorchester Penitentiary in June, 1972, Marshall remained there for close to two and a half years. He was known as a good inmate who got along well with the other inmates and received average work assessments from his placement as a cleaner in the kitchen and subsequently while ungrading his education to the grade ten level. At no time, did Marshall present any difficulties of a behavioural nature and consequently, in November, 1974, he was transferred to Springhill Institution.

For the first two and a half years of his period in Springhill Institution, Marshall's performance continued to be as positive as it had been in Dorchester. He was variously employed as a cleaner, in maintenance plumbing, as the unit canteen operator, and in vocational plumbing, and consistently received above average work assessments. In addition, Marshall continued to be a most cooperative inmate who incurred no offence reports. During his leisure time, Marshall was involved with the Native Brotherhood Organization, the institutional sports program, and with the Inmate Committee. The chief problem area seen was Marshall's continued protestations of innocence.

Psychological testing completed shortly after Marshall's arrival in Springhill in November, 1974 and repeated in April, 1975 was invalid but suggested the ressibility that Marshall had serious personality problems. This testing, completed by G. J. Cyr, revealed Marshall to be an immature individual lacking adequate control over his impulses and who under conditions of stress, could act out in a hostile manner. It was felt that he showed features tyrical of a character disorder but also revealed some obcessive-compulsive features indicating that he could easily become tense and anxious in specific conflict situations. The Institutional psychiatrist, Dr. Ryan, saw Marshall in May of 1975 at which time medication to assist Marshall in sleeping was provided. Dr. Ryan noted that Marshall appeared to have a lot of obcessive thoughts. A psychiatric case conference was held with Dr. Ryan in August, 1975 and revealed Marshall to be very defensive, somewhat isolated, somewhat obcessive-corrulsive in his pattern, and possibly suffering from a personality disorder. Dr. Ryan recommended that his Range Officer try to establish a relationship with Marshall in order to get him to work through some of his frustrations and rages and look at his own feelings. At the same time, Dr. Ryan expressed the orinion that Marshall did not represent too great a risk for escorted T.L.A.'s.

Marshall first applied for escorted T.L.A.'s in October, 1975 and between the period January, 1976 and June, 1977 received four or five such passes. A subsequent case conference with Dr. Ryan held in November, 1976 indicated that there had been no significant chapges in Marshall's behaviour or assessment in the previous year.

MARSHALL, Donald John Jr.
Special Submission to the Board

Parole Officer Diahann McConkey in a report dated November 19, 1977, recommending to the Parole Board that Marshall be approved for escorted T.A.'s noted that, although Marshall's behaviour and progress in the Institution were certainly positive, he could represent a security risk in terms of his insistance that he is innocent, feeling that he can't do much more time, and ambivalence about being released on T.L.A.'s.

The period July, 1977 until March, 1978 was a fairly unsettled one for Marshall. He appeared to have been backed into a corner whereby he was still unwilling to admit quilt for the offence but was beginning to realize that if he did not do so he would be unlikely to obtain the release privileges accorded to other individuals. Tension and pressure appeared to mount steadily in Marshall and as a result he was termed a security risk by the institutional director and his T.A. program was curtailed. This action, although necessary, only served to increase Marshall's tension and frustration and several fiery exchanges occurred between him and his caseworkers at the Institution and between him and his Parole Officer. January, 1978, Marshall began to incur offence reports in the Institution. Initially, these were fairly minor and involved Marshall being in another unit without permission. However, the deterioration in Marshall's behaviour eventually culminated in him being placed in dissociation in March, 1978 after having assaulted another inmate. In view of his mounting tension, Marshall had seen Dr. Ryan in February, 1978. Dr. Ryan, in his report, expressed the opinion that Marshall was an extremely anxious, tense young man who was in a particularly difficult situation and was having difficulty ir coping with this. Marshall was provided with some medication to help with his anxiety and loss of sleep.

After the incident resulting in Marshall's placement in dissociation, his caseworker, Kim Thompson, sat down with Marshall and drew up a new institutional plan which Marshall agreed to follow. Under this plan, Marshall was to receive favourable work reports, to avoid incurring any further offence reports, to continue his participation in the institutional sports program but to use restraint, to improve his attitude in the units, and to totally dissociate himself from any muscling activities. Since his release from dissociation in April, 1978 Marshall has stuck to this plan faithfully.

Parole Officer, Diahann McConkey, in a Part IV dated June 1, 1973 recommended Marshall for day parole to participate in the Atlantic Challenge Program. Ms. McConkey expressed the opinion that, although Marshall was a high risk case, participation in Atlantic Challenge would reinforce the positive efforts Marshall had made in the previous two months, help him to believe that there was some possibility for eventual release in his case, and allow him the opportunity to work out some of his anger and frustration in a struggle against the elements. The Parole Board members who considered his case were not unanimous in their opinion. However, Marshall was subsequently granted the day parole and participated in the Atlantic Challenge Program from August 8 to 18, 1978. As best as can be determined, "arshall caused no problems during his day parole.

In the summer of 1978, the Parole Service and institutional personnel again sat down with Marshall in an attempt to draw up long range plans for and with him. It was stressed to Marshall that, although it was not necessary that he admit to the crime, it was necessary that he recognize that there were and still are certain elements in his personality and attitudes that make him capable of committing murder and that these must change if he hopes to eventually be released.

At the present time, Marshall is once again doing very well in the Institution and faithfully following his revised plan. At the same time, he is presently in the process of developing a T.A. plan that will include unescorted T.L.A.'s. It is anticipated that this plan will be presented to the Parole Board early in 1979.

On June 14, 1978, Marshall appeared before the Parole Board in regards to his application for day parole to participate in Atlantic Challenge and subsequently received a decision of Day Parole Granted (A78-01108.) At that point, the Board specified that Marshall was to participate in an Atlantic Challenge Program away from the Cape Breton area. Marshall sub-sequently participated in the Atlantic Challenge from August 8 to 18, 1978 and the writer was informed in a recent discussion with Lin Jensen that there were no problems with Marshall on that program.

APPRAISAL

Donald Marshall is a 25-year-old Native inmate presently serving a life sentence. He was eligible for day parole on June 4, 1978 and will be eligible for full parole on June 4, 1981. Marshall's life sentence represents his only significant period of incarceration. However, he does have a previous record having been convicted of assault as a juvenile and of theft under and supplying liquor to a minor at the age of sixteen.

Since Marshall's appearance before the Parole Board in June, 1978, he has continued the positive performance and behaviour he had begun following his release from dissociation in April, 1978. At this point, Marshall has recently completed the vocational plumbing trade where he was described as a quiet and good worker. According to Marshall, he passed two of the examinations but will have to write the third one, dealing with math, again in about six months time. At the present time, Marshall is working in plumbing maintenance. He has incurred no further offence reports since his release from dissociation last spring. In addition, Marshall has again renewed his involvement with the Native Brotherhood organization and has once again been approved by the institutional director for escorted T.A.'s.

Institutional and Parole Service thinking in this case had been geared towards participation in the winter survival program for Marshall. Were it not for the fact that this program is to take place in Cape Breton Highlands National Park and the Parole Board have previously indicated that they did not wish Marshall to participate in an Atlantic Challenge Program in Cape Breton, the writer would have no hesitation whatsoever in recommending Marshall for this program.

On December 14, 1978, the writer interviewed Marshall in regards to the upcoming winter survival program. Much of the writer's discussion with Marshall centered around the fact that this program was to take place in the Cape Breton area and the Parole Board's previously expressed feelings in this regard. In response to a question from the writer, Marshall expressed the opinion that the Board's position in his case was probably because they were afraid that if he were released to the Cape Breton area he would try to go to Sydney and stir up his case again. Marshall states, unequivocally, however, that he would not do this as it would do him much more harm than good. In elaboration, Marshall expressed the opinion that he feels that he is now definitely beginning to make progress in terms of hopefully acquiring an eventual release from the Institution and that were he to pull a stunt such as going to Sydney, he would undo all of the progress he has made. Marshall also noted that even if he were to go to Sydney, there would be nothing he could do regarding his case in any case.

The writer also discussed this specific area with Lin Jensen, the Coordinatory for the Atlantic Challenge Program, who indicated that he had no problems whatsoever with Marshall on the previous Atlantic Challenge expedition and had no hesitation in taking him along on the proposed program to the Cape Breton National Highlands Park.

At this point, it is the writer's feeling that Marshall should be positively considered for this winter survival program despite the fact that the program is to take place in the Cape Breton area. Marshall's situation would appear to be much more positive at the present time than it was at the time of the Board's previous review in June, 1978. Whereas, at that time, Marshall's positive progress in the Institution and improved behaviour had only been of two months duration, at this time, Marshall now has eight months of positive progress behind him. In addition, Marshall has now been released on an Atlantic Challenge Program and has by all appearances performed quite acceptably. Furthermore, Marshall's outlook now appears to be much more positive in that he can see that he is making progress and can see some hope for possible eventual release. Consequently, the risk of releasing him to the Cape Breton area would appear to have been diminished. For these reasons, then, a positive recommendation is being submitted.

CUMMULATIVE SUMMARY

NAME:

MARSHALL, Donald, Jr.

FPS: 410491A

(Please refer to attached cummulative summary prepared for day parole hearing.)

RELEASE PLANS:

Subject has applied for a day parole to the Labour Prol to work on the Springhill Golf.

INSTITUTION:

No recent report on file. P.O. states that he appears to experience considerable difficulty in sustaining positive behaviour and the rewards which go along with same. He appears to go along quite well for awhile, and then suddenly loses his privileges because of unacceptable behaviour. Originally approved for escorted T.A.'s two years ago and received several passes until he incurred a very serious offence in the institution and T.A.'s were curtailed. In summer of 1978 he succeeded in establishing credibility and was once more approved for a limited group T.A. program. In the fall of 1978 he was caught smoking marijuana and his T.A.'s were again cut off. His T.A. program was reinstated at the end of November 1978 and in December he was released on an escorted T.A. to the Mic Mac Friendship Centre where he apparently became very intoxicated. His T.A.'s were once again curtailed and he is not presently on a T.A. program. In view of his apparent inability to control his behavior on a regular basis, P.O. feels that he represents too high a risk for a regular day parole program.

NPS COMMENTS:

Subject is frustrated, tense and impulsive. He has completed plumbing course. There are many references to subject's claims of innocence of the offence on file. Apparently subject was involved in a fight in the institution, but there is no information on file (apparently he broke his hand and was therefore not allowed to participate in the Atlantic Challenge Program).

According to P.O. subject should have the cast removed prior to the proposed commence ment of the day parole program, but he is to receive treatment for an old injury to his other wrist. This will possibly entail rebreaking and he will therefore be in a case for at least two months. These medical problems would cause him some definite difficulties in terms of doing the work required at the golf course.

P.O. states that one of the main problems - "the major problem in this case" - remains the fact that subject has been convicted of murder and throughout his close to eight years of imprisonment, he has persistently denied the offence.

Behaviour was acceptable on Atlantic Challenge day parole during 1978.

He appears to be in need of a gradual release such as that which would be available through day parole to the golf course.

A detailed and specific case plan was drawn up with subject by institutional official and to a very great extent, with the exception of his periodic episodes of unacceptable behaviour, he has stuck to the plan precisely and has made considerable progress.

Due to subject's apparent inability to control his behaviour on a long-term basis as evidenced by remarks in "Institution" block, P.O. is not recommending this day parole. Subject is aware of this recommendation and also that the institution may not be recommending this day parole.

RECOMMENDATION

I recommend Day Parole Denied.

BASIC DATA REVIEW

The Parole Board first reviewed Marshall's case in June, 1977, at which point they indicated they had no objection to Marshall's participation in an escorted T.A. program.

On June 14, 1978, Marshall appeared before the Parole Board in regards to his application for day parole to participate in Atlantic Challenge and subsequently received a decision of day parole granted (A-78-01108.) Marshall subsequently participated in the Atlantic Challenge Program from August 8 to 18, 1978 and apparently completed the program successfully.

Marshall subsequently applied for day parole to participate in the Atlantic Chailenge Winter Project with the Native Brotherhood group. Initially the Board rendered a reserved decision (A-79-00023) as they required further information on the program. However, on February 7, 1979, the Board ultimately rendered a decision of Day Parole Granted (A-79-00230.) Marshall was scheduled to participate in the program from February 17 to 22, 1979. However, on February 12, 1979, Marshall broke his hand and as a result was unable to get medical clearance. Consequently, the Board subsequently rendered a decision of Day Parole Denied (A-79-00371.)

APPRAISAL

Problem Areas:

(1) Marshall has thus far in his sentence received no unescorted T.A.'s and only a limited number of escorted T.A.'s. Marshall does not have an approved T.A. plan that was submitted to the Board. Over the past year, however, the institutional director has from time to time allowed Marshall to be released on group T.A.'s. However, at the present time, (1) continued . . .

because of his unacceptable behaviour on his last escorted T.A., Marshall is not approved by the Institution for T.A.'s.

In light of the fact that Marshall has received no unescorted passes and very few escorted ones, and is not at the present time even approved for escorted passes, an application for a daily return day parole would appear to be premature.

(2) Marshall appears to experience considerable difficulty in sustaining positive behaviour and the rewards which go along with same. As has been pointed out to him on a number of occasions, he appears to go along quite well for a while and then suddenly loses his privileges because of unacceptable behaviour. Marshall's escorted T.A. program is a case in point. He was originally approved for escorted T.A.'s two years ago and received several such passes until he incurred a very serious offence report in the Institution and his T.A.'s were curtailed. In the summer of 1978 Marshall again succeeded in establishing credibility and was once more approved by the director for a limited group T.A. program. However, in the fall of 1978, Marshall was caught smoking marijuana and his T.A.'s were again cut off, this time for a period of two months. His T.A. program was reinstated at the end of November, 1978. However, in December, 1978, Marshall was released on an escorted T.A. to the Mic Mac Friendship Centre where he apparently became very intoxicated. As a result of this incident, Marshall's T.A.'s were once again curtailed and he is not presently on a T.A. program.

In view of Marshall's apparent inability to control his behaviour on a sustained basis, the writer feels that he represents too high risk a case for a regular day parole program.

- (3) At the present time, as a result of a fight he was involved in during a floor hockey game, Marshall's hand is in a cast. Although it is anticipated that this cast will be removed prior to the proposed commencement of the day parole to the golf course, it is also noted that Marshall is scheduled to have treatment for an old injury to his other wrist. This will apparently entail rebreaking the wrist and Marshall will be required to wear a cast for at least two months. These medical problems would cause Marshall some definite difficulties in terms of doing the work required at the golf course.
- (4) The major problem area in this case, and perhaps the one that is responsible for most of the above noted problems as well, remains the fact that Marshall has been convicted of murder and throughout the close to eight years of his incarceration has persistently denied the offence. The writer and institutional personnel, based on Marshall's behaviour and attitude, have come to the conclusion that the matter of his guilt or innocence is no longer relevant. Rather, it is felt that Marshall is the type of individual who potentially could have committed the offence and to a certain extent could still commit a similar offence. Work with Marshall in the past year has been directed towards trying to assist him to recognize this fact and work at changing those elements of his personality which are apparently at fault.

Strengths in Plan:

- Marshall was released on a brief Atlantic Challenge day parole during the summer of 1978 and his behaviour was quite acceptable during that program.
- (2) As an individual serving a life sentence, Marshall would certainly appear to be in need of a gradual release such as that which would be available through day parole to the golf course.

MARSHALL, Donald Jr. Part IV

(3) After Marshall was placed in dissociation in March, 1978, a detailed and specific case plan was drawn up with him by institutional personnel. To a very great extent, with the exception of his periodic episodes of unacceptable behaviour, Marshall has stuck to this plan precisely and has made considerable progress. Thus, it would appear that he is definitely making positive efforts.

SUMMARY

In sum, Marshall presents the case of a 25-year-old individual serving a life senterce who has applied for day parole, daily return, to the golf course as the first step in a gradual release program. Although the writer feels that the proposed day parole program itself would be a good one for an individual such as Marshall who needs a gradual release, the writer cannot support Marshall for this day parole program at the present time in light of the limited number and types of releases Marshall has thus far had from the Institution and his apparent inability to control his impulsive behaviour on a sustained basis. Marshall is aware of the writer's recommendation in this case and the reasons for it. He is similarly aware that the Institution will also not be supporting his day parole application. Consequently, it remains possible that Marshall may withdraw his application prior to the panel hearing.

The Parole Board first reviewed Marshall's case in June, 1977, at which point they indicated they had no objection to Marshall's participation in an escorted T.A. program.

On June 14, 1978, Marshall appeared before the Parole Board in regards to his application for day parole to participate in Atlantic Challenge and subsequently received a decision of Day Parole Granted (A-78-01108.) Marshall subsequently participated in the Atlantic Challenge Program from August 8 to 18, 1978 and the writer was informed by Lynn Jensen, Coordinator of the program, that Marshall completed the program quite successfully.

Marshall subsequently applied for day parole to participate in the Atlantic Challenge Winter Project with the Native Brotherhood and received a decision of Day Parole Granted (A-79-00230.) Marshall was scheduled to participate in the program from February 17 to 22, 1979 but on February 12, 1979, he broke his hand and as a result was unable to get medical clearance. Consequently, the Board subsequently rendered a decision of Day Parole Denied (A-79-00371.)

On April 19, 1979, Marshall once again appeared before the Parole Board, this time in regards to an application for day parole to work at the golf course. At this time, the Board rendered a decision of Day Parole Denied (A-79-00653) and expressed the opinion that the risk involved was too high in light of Marshall's unstable behaviour pattern and that his hand injury would make the work difficult even if other factors were favourable.

The Principle of the Control of the mPS 5C6 3-78

APPRAISAL

Junior Marshall is a 25-year-old Native inmate presently serving a life sent ence. He was eligible for day parole on June 4, 1978 and will be eligible for full parole on June 4, 1981. Marshall's life sentence represents his only significant period of incarceration. However, he does have a previous record having been convicted of assault as a juvenile and of theft under and supplying liquor to a minor at the age of sixteen.

Since the writer's previous Part IV dated March 27, 1979, considerable changes have occurred in Marshall's situation. The most significant of these was his transfer from Unit 11 to Unit 10, the Therapeutic Community. A recent check with institutional personnel reveals that Marshall has been getting along very well in the more open and somewhat more con-frontive environment of Unit 10. Danny Beaton, a range officer who had known Marshall in Unit 11, indicates that Marshall appears much more open and receptive to staff and on a number of occasions has initiated conversations. The writer too has noticed this same difference in Marshall.

Despite the somewhat more open environment of Unit 10, Marshall appears to be able to keep his behaviour on an even keel. He has incurred no offence reports and is not suspected of being involved in any unacceptable activities. Institutional personnel are in support of Marshall's request to participate in Atlantic Challenge.

The Atlantic Challenge Program itself, which will take place from August 13 to 22, 1979, has been designed to accommodate the Native Brotherhood Group. Consequently, this particular expedition will be a canoeing one and will also involve a certain amount of portaging. To the best of this writer's knowledge, full details of the program itself have already been forwarded to the Board by C.S.C., Halifax. Marshall's case in particular has been discussed with John Unroe of the Halifax office who indicates that he has no concern whatsoever about including Marshall in this program. As noted in one of the writer's earlier reports, Marshall is a regular member of the Native Brotherhood Group in Springhill Institution.

In this writer's opinion, Marshall would appear to be a good candidate for this program. His participation in Atlantic Challenge last summer was a successful one and appeared to be of benefit to Marshall. addition, Marshall does appear to have been making more of an effort lately to control his periodic bouts of unacceptable behaviour. In fact, as a result of his efforts in this regard, Marshall has again been approved by the Institutional Director for participation in escorted group T.A.'s. Finally, it should be noted that the medical problems that prevented
Marshall from participating in the previous Atlantic Challenge Program have now been cleared up. The cast has recently been removed from his arm and it is anticipated that within the next week or so Marshall should be cleared for resumption of normal work activities.

In summary, the writer is prepared to recommend Marshall for day parole to Atlantic Challenge as it is felt that this program has been in the past and could be in the future of benefit to him and Marshall has been making an effort to comply with the demands made of him by the Parole Board, Parole Service staff and institutional authorities.

Mr. & Mrs. Donald Marshall - Subject's Parents - Personal Interview Chief Alex Christmas - Chief, Membertou Reservation - Personal Interview Inspector William Urquhart - Sydney Police Department - Personal Interview

COMMUNITY FINDINGS:

Mr. & Mrs. Donald Marshall, the subject's parents, were contacted at their home on the Membertou Indian Reserve in Sydney, Nova Scotia. Initially, the Marshalls were informed of this writer's visit and the Marshalls were expecting a visit from a Parole Officer knowing that their son had applied for a 3 day pass from Springhill Institution. The Marshalls live in a spacious two-storey dwelling on the Membertou Reserve and according to Mr. & Mrs. Marshall, there will be adequate room for their son should the be granted a pass. Currently living in the Marshall home are the subject's parents, as well as his four brothers and I sister. The father, Donald Marshall, is the Grand Chief for the entire Micmac Nation. During our conversation, the offence for which the subject is currently incarcerated was brought up. The parents feel that their son may not be guilty of the offence as their son repeatedly informs his parents that he killed no one. This writer informed the subject's parents of the subject's reluctance to admit to the offence or speak about it. The parents response was that the subject will only speak to a lawyer about the circumstances surrounding the incident and to their knowledge the subject refuses to speak to anyone else about the incident. It is this writer's feeling that the mother is more of a firm believer in her son's innocence and that the father has more or less accepted the fact that his son has spent a great deal of his life in jail regardless of whether or not he is guilty of the offence. To this end, there appears to be some reinforcement in the Marshall home which may be providing the subject with the necessary motivation to pursue an appeal in his case. The subject's parents seem to think that one of the crown witnesses against the subject was coerced into making a false statement on the stand and in fact approached Donald Marshall, Sr., to inform him that what he had said on the stand was, in fact, not true. Although Mr. Marshall has not pursued this any further, he seems to believe that there was something fishy going on during his son's trial which eventually saw the subject receive a life sentence.

The subject's parents were questioned about their planned activities should Junior Marshall be successful in obtaining a 3 day pass. Mr. Marshall indicated that he and the rest of his family plan to spend every waking moment with their son, as they realize the three days will pass very quickly. There appears to be adequate family support available for the subject in the Marshall home providing the subject stays close to home during his 3 day pass. The Marshalls indicated to this writer their disappointment in their son's futile attempts in obtaining previous temporary appointment in their son's futile attempts in obtaining previous temporary appointment in their son's futile attempts in obtaining previous temporary appointment in their son's futile attempts in obtaining previous temporary appointment in their son's request for a temporary absence. The subject's parents their son's request for a temporary absence. The subject's parents indicated that they would of course be disappointed although they are used to this feeling. When questioned about the possible reaction of their son, to this feeling. When questioned about the possible reaction he would would not show any extreme reaction as a result of the frustration he would experience as a result of a negative response to his temporary absence experience as a result of a negative response to his temporary absence the black community with regard to a release for Junior, and Mr. Marshall responded that he does not feel there would be any negative reaction from the black community and, in fact, he felt that the majority of the blacks the black community and, in fact, he felt that the majority of the blacks he black community and, in fact, he felt that the majority of the blacks the black community and, in fact, he felt that the majority of the blacks he black community and, in fact, he felt that the majority of the blacks he black community and, in fact, he felt that the majority of the blacks have mallowed any hostility between the two races and at times seems t

Mr. Alex Christmas, Chief of the Membertou Indian Reservation, was contacted in order to discuss the possibility of the subject receiving funds from the Union of Nova Scotia Indians with regard to his appeal. Mr. Christmas reported to this writer that he would not know if the Membertou Band Council would try to solicit funds for the subject's appeal until he has talked to the subject. Mr. Christmas thinks that about until he has talked to the subject's appeal, and he would have to hear the $2000. is needed for the subject's appeal, and he would have to hear the subject's reasons for an appeal prior to soliciting for funds. Chief Christmas was somewhat confused about the subject's appeal at such a late date, as the subject has spent approximately 9 years in jail and is eligible for Parole in less than 1 year. This writer questioned Mr. Christmas about the possibility of interviewing the subject in the Christmas about the possibility of interviewing the subject in the Institution as opposed to granting the subject a 3 day pass for the purpose of an interview to determine if the Band Council would solicit funds for the subject. Mr. Christmas thought that this could probably in fact be done although a pass would provide the subject with an opportunity to visit his parents as well as give the subject a chance to try to substantiate to Chief Christmas why the Membertou Band Council should try to support him with financial aid with regard to his appeal. Chief Christmas reported that he thinks Junior MARSHALL would receive complete support from all members of the Membertou community and that there is no hostility between any person on that Reserve and the subject.

In summary, Chief Christmas is not certain at this particular point whether funds will be available to support the subject with his appeal. Chief Christmas will not be able to decide whether or not the subject's appeal will be supported by the Membertou Band Council until he has talked to the subject himself and discussed his reasons for an appeal at this late date. Chief Christmas does however support the subject's request for a 3 day pass as he feels the Marshall family is very highly thought of not only on the Micmac Reserve but throughout the Indian community in Nova Scotia. Chief Christmas went on to say that Mrs. Marshall has a tight rein over all of her family and whatever she says is law in the Marshall home.

Inspector William Urquhart of the Sydney Police Department was contacted in order to elicit his reaction to the subject's request for a 3 day temporary absence to return to the Membertou Reserve with hopes of gaining support for this appeal. As expected, the police reaction in this case is quite negative, as they are very concerned about the risk the subject presents should he return to the area. Inspector Urquhart feels that the subject is a high risk for re-offending and should not be given that opportunity to do so. As earlier stated, the reaction of the Sydney police to the subject's return to the Membertou Reserve is negative.

Donald MARSHALL was returned from Springhall to Dorchester on October 31, 1980. He had previously that year been transferred from Springhill to Dorchester, but was then returned (April, 1980) when there seemed to be insufficient evidence to justify a previous emergency transfer. However, during the summer of 1980 his behavior at Springhill deteriorated. He was suspected of drug involvement, and had been very quick to become involved in fights. The reader is referred to the minutes of the Regional Classification Board (October 30, 1980) for details of this transfer.

Since that time, Mr. MARSHALL has been detained in Dorchester, where his behavior has improved a great deal. He is not suspected of drug involvement, and his only offence has been possession of a small container of honey, which he claims was for use in sweetening beverages. His work is satisfactory for the maintenance plumbers, and he appears to have settled into Dorchester to the extent of feeling that a return to Springhill would not be in his own best interest, especially after he was told that in Springhill he was simply taking up space. A Needs Analysis Profile and a Individual Program Plan have been prepared for Mr. MARSHALL. He agrees that his main problems have in the past involved the use of drugs and alcohol, compounded with his belligerence. He admits that in Springhill he was known as the person who was invariably ready for a fight, and states that he must devest himself of this image before he can really improve. Admittedly a loner, he describes approaching other to discuss his problems, and seems well aware of the fact that if he is to succeed and return to life outside prison he must change in several important ways. This he is prepared to do, and expressed little resentment at the needs enumerated in the Needs Analysis Profile, merely mildly commenting that they seemed to be more negative than positive. It was explained to him that the program plan is the positive part of the work of the case management team, and that much would be expected from him in this respect.

It should be noted that Mr. MARSHALL has only recently given up hope of appeal ing his lift sentence, but seems to have made this decision without any majupheaval, and is now prepared to look forward to the future without flinching:

RELEASE ELANS:

Mr. MARSHALL has signed form NPB 104, indicating that he does not at present have any release plans. However, in cooperation with his Case Management Team, he expects to derive release plans within the next year.

Donald Marshall is serving a life sentence, which he incurred on November 5, 1971. Since that time, in 1979, he escaped from Springhill for which he was awarded four months consecutive. His career in Springhill was chequered.

During the early part of his sentence, and until 1978, he apparently hoped that he would be able to appeal his life sentence successfully. However, in 1978 he was told by the lawyer employed by Penitentiary Legal Services that there was little prospect of the legal services continuing to help him with his appeal process, and he has recently given up all hope of appeal. However, in the meantime, he had displayed some violent behavior, and in 1979, after going unlawfully at large, he was transferred to Dorchester. However, it was felt in February, 1980, that he could be safely returned to Springhill, an action that was taken shortly thereafter. Finally, after a further deterioration in his behavior, he was transferred to Dorchester on October 31, 1980. He remains in Dorchester, apparently relaxed and reasonable contented with his situation, as has been described in the first page of the progress summary.

Mr. Marshall is now eligible for full parole. He has signed form NPB 104, but is hoping to have firm release plans within the next year or so. However, there are very serious reservations with respect to him, since he appears to resort to violence whenever he is seriously upset, and makes a nuisance of himself in the institution. Finally, after years of toleration, Springhill gave up.

Perhaps Mr. Marshall will be able to reach some form of understanding of himself, both as a human being and as an Indian, during the time that it seems likely he will be required to spend at Dorchester. Until he learns self-control and learns to understand himself, there is very little hope of his succeeding in any form of release. The case management team will continue it s work with him in the hope that he will agree to work on the problem areas raised in the needs analysis, and that he will be able to make some progress in the areas highlighted there.

Because Mr. Marshall has signed form NPB 104, no recommendation accompanies this report.

This case conference was convened for the purpose of discussing with the staff at the Springhill Institution the possibility of Donald Marshall being transferred to Springhill.

Margaret McWilliam, CSC Dorchester

Kim Thompson, of the Springhill Institution, discussed in some detail Mr. Marshall's rather chequered history at the Springhill Institution. He mentioned that the initial return to Dorchester from Springhill was effected without the consent of the treatment staff. Because of this, he was returned to Springhill, but under strict conditions. After having been granted temporary day parole, he escaped, and was again retained in Springhill, and again with special conditions. Mr. Thompson described the difficulties encountered by treatment staff with respect to Mr. Marshall's appeal, which was pending for approximately 8 years before he finally abandoned hope. Mr. Thompson described his final weeks in Springhill, when the incidence of infractions became so great that they finally led to his transfer to Dorchester.

Case Conference - 23 June 1981

MARSHALL, Donald FPS 410491A

His present classification officer, Margaret McWilliam, then described the reasons for transfer to Springhill, which included Mr. Marshall's hope to gain his Plumbing Ticket in Nova Scotia, and possible day parole to the Carlton Centre.

The staff of the Springhill Institution, with several people making suggest then enumerated the problems to be expected if Mr. Marshall were to be retult to Springhill. These included his previous work location as "roving plumber his use of drugs, and the high probability of his again getting into trouble there. His situation in Springhill was described as "no win "; in spite of this, staff believed that Mr. Marshall would do anything or say anything to effect a return to Springhill. It was also mentioned that, since he is the son of a high Indian Administrative Officer, his issue is still politically hot, in spite of the ten years that have elapsed since his conviction.

It soon became obvious that the Springhill Institution felt that Mr. Marshall best hope of success on parole would be to skip Springhill altogether, and the transferred from Dorchester to the Westmorland Institution, or directly the Carlton Centre. However, they were willing to consider suggestions for case treatment in the event that the Parole Board insisted that a gradual release via the Springhill Institution was to be Mr. Marshall's sole route to parole.

In particular, they suggested that he should wait longer before seeking release, spending more time in Dorchester and demonstrating his ability to remain free of drug use. It was suggested that a one-to-one counselling relationship should be developed, although they admitted that, under the CMT, this might be difficult or impossible to implement. In any case, the initiative should be Mr. Marshall's, to enter fully into a counselling relationship and to develop his own community resources. In the event that he should be transferred, not in the immediate future, to Springhill, he should be prepared to do everything differently, including changing his unit from number eleven, a his trade from that of plumbing.

Most particularly, the staff at Springhill suggested that Mr. Marshall must deal with his "murderous" side including the details of the very unpleasant murder, and his attacks on other people, including other inmates and - nearl - a staff member at Springhill. He must admit to the crime (if he did it), and deal with the factors that lead to his violence. In addition, he must have a firm release plan, including an agreement from the Carlton Centre to accept him after a definite period of time. During case preparation, preventive security should be consulted with respect to drug use and dealing, and with respect to "muscling". He should be informed that, at the slightest infraction, he would be returned to Dorchester. Finally, the Springhill staff suggested that he should learn to channel his energy and ability to positive, rather than negative, channels.

The Springhill staff, while re-iterating their previous position that Mr. Marshall should not come to Springhill, agreed that at least 6 months, and preferably a year, should elapse before any lengthy case preparation should be undertaken. At that time, the Carlton Centre and the National Parole Board should be consulted with respect to a possible release plan for him. If it were decided that Springhill was essential, another case conference would have to be held, which would probably involve a discussion with Mr. Marshall himself, with respect to his plans.

In summary, the staff at the Springhill Institution made it abundantly clear that Mr. Marshall's presence is not desired in Springhill, either for his own betterment or for that of the institution. He must come to terms with his violent nature, and demonstrate an ability to control it. After very careful case work, his case should be presented to the National Parole Board for the suggestions as to future management. At that time, if NPB decided that a transfer to the Springhill Institution was a necessary preliminary to parole release, his case would be again considered.

EMPLOYMENT - He has been working in Maintenance Plumbing and will continue PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT - MARSHALL has recently applied for an interview with the Psychologist. He still has alot to deal with before he can be considered a good candidate for a Parole.

FAMILY/COMMUNITY - He is maintaining contact with family and friends.

TRANSFER/RELEASE/SUPERVISION - A Case Conference was held at Springhill (81-06-23) to discuss the possibility of a return to that institution. Junional his Case Management Officers had agreed that this was the only reasonable way out of Dorchester. However, Springhill does not agree. They do not believe that it would be in Junior's best interest to return, and have suggested that a Day Parole directly to Carlton Centre would be more appropriate. If the National Parole Board requires that Junior be in Springhill for a short while on his way to a Day Parole, the staff at Springhill would accept him only on certain very specific conditions. The next step for Junior is to deal with some of the concerns raised by Springhill, and then to apply for a Day Parole to Carlton Centre.

LEISURE - Junior is involved in many sports during his leisure time. He is considering joining the Community Centre.

SUMMARY - MARSHALL appears to be adjusting well, both to the institution and to the fact that he is serving a life sentence. He has not been charged with an institutional offence in the past six months and is not suspected of being involved in the sort of things (drugs, muscling) that led to his downfall at Springhill.

EDUCATIONAL/VOCATIONAL TRAINING - Junior upgraded his education to grade 10 in Dorchester. He has taken Plumbing and Welding trades, and is now working on getting his ticket for Plumbing. He has been in the School for the past 7 weeks, studying the math he will need to write the examination.

EMPLOYMENT - He has worked in several shops over the years, and has received good work reports. Since his most recent admission to Dorchester he has been with Maintenance Plumbing, and his current work placement is at the School.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT - During the past 9 years Junior has been preoccupied with his appeal - working for it, trying to get money to pay for it, giving up on it, following up new leads for it. He denies committing the offence and consequently has not put much effort into the area of personal developme Besides being immersed in his appeal, Junior has been a bit too active in institutional life at Springhill. He was a high profile inmate whom other inmates, and staff as well, turned to because of his control over a large paroff the population. He was involved in muscling inmates for debts and drugs. He did well and followed case plans for periods of time, but would become frustrated and end up in Dissociation and Segregation. Because of this he was probably never be able to return to Springhill (see Memo dated 81-06-24 for notes on the Case Conference held at Springhill). The realization that he has cut off one (probably the best) avenue of release seems to have made him a lot more serious about working on himself. He has contacted the psychologiand is scheduled for another interview in the near future, and he is finally taking the necessary steps to prepare for his plumbing exam. Unfortunately, his abandonment of hope for his appeal was short-lived. A visitor has been talking about proof that one of the witnesses lied, and Junior is once again hard at work.

FAMILY/COMMUNITY - Junior has maintained contact with his family and friends. They correspond, he phones, and they visit him.

TRANSFER/RELEASE/SUPERVISION - MARSHALL was admitted to Dorchester 72-06-20 and transferred to Springhill 74-11-04. He was granted a day parole to attented the Atlantic Challenge Program in 1979. The first time (August 8 - 18) went well. Ten days after his release the second time (September 14), he was declared Unlawfully At Large. He was returned to Springhill, then transferr to Dorchester (81-02-11), transferred back to Springhill (80-04-22), and once again transferred to Dorchester (80-10-31).

LEISURE - Junior is involved in sports activities and goes to Church. Earli in this sentence he was involved with the Native Brotherhood.

CURRENT TEMPORARY ABSENCE PLANS - Junior has applied for an Unescorted T.A. to visit his family for Christmas. He plans to leave the institution at 690 nours December 23. His family will provide transportation.

INTERIM ASSESSMENT - Junior MARSHALL, 28 years old, is serving a Life sentence for Non-Capital Murder. He has served 10 years. His F.P.S. sheet dates back to 1970, when he was charged with Theft under $50. He was Unlawfully At Large in 1979. According to his file, he also has a juvenile record.

Junior is certainly a high risk case because of his escape history, but it should be noted that he did it in order to check into his appeal. He still maintains that he is not guilty, and he has renewed hopes of an appeal.

On the positive side, his institutional performance has been very good. He is not suspected of being involved in the sorts of things that led to his downfall at Springhill. He has begun to take an interest in his personal development, and is following a case plan that should lead to a parole to Carlton Centre. A UTA at this time might give an irdication of the extent of his commitment.

A Community Assessment is being requested.

APPORT RECAPITULATIF SUR L'ÉVOLUTION DU CAS (SUITE)

1977 MARSHALL, Donald John, Jr. FPS 410491A

APPRAISAL - MARSHALL's CMT is supporting his application for a 3 day Unescorted Temporary Absence to visit his family for Christmas for the following reasons:

- The Community Assessment is reasonably positive. Mr. Alex Christmas, Chief of the Membertou Indian Reservation, has no objections. Junior's mother is looking forward to having him visit and has a place for him to stay.
- 2. Junior has volunteered to take Antabuse, and has agreed to abide by any restrictions placed on him.
- 3. His institutional behavior has been very good. He has settled down considerably since his return to Dorchester. He has been preparing to write his journeyman plumber's examination.
- He is involved in case planning and is making plans for a Day Parole for the near future.
- 5. He has recently placed his Appeal in the hands of his lawyer and is optimistic because of a new witness.
- 6. While U.A.L. for 2 days in 1979, he did not commit new offences.
- Of course there are concerns with an Unescorted Temporary Absence:
- 1. Police Chief MacIntyre, who was the investigating officer in MARSHALL's case, is strongly opposed to the visit. His concern is for public safety.
- Junior escaped while on Day Parole in 1979. According to file material, he claimed at the time that he was on his way home to check into his Appeal. He now admits that he was heading for the United States.
- Junior has not spent alot of time dealing with his main problem areas, alcohol and violence.

However, his CMT believes that he is in a good frame of mind and will be able to handle an Unescorted Temporary Absence.

19. Accommensation - Recommendation

CMT recommends that the Christmas UTA be granted. The following restrictions are also recommended:

(1) No use of alcohol or drugs.

(2) Remain on the Membertou Reserve.(3) No contact with witnesses at his trail.

Dear Mr. Marshall:

Following your appearance on the 2 December, 1981, National Parole Board panel hearing, the decision is Unescorted Temporary Absence Denied.

The denial was rendered because the Board does not believe that Christmas on your home reserve is a good time for a first release in about two years because you may run into witnesses at your trial. Although you are willing to take antabuse, there is likely to be a great deal of dricking and hostilities could surface.

I regret I cannot offer a more favorable reply.

Yours truly,

Had a two hour interview with MARSHALL on the 14th of December, 1981.

During this two hour interview we discussed several areas. We discussed his apprehension of psychologists and psychiatrists generally. This suspiciousness stems mainly from reports, verbal ones, that he has received from psychologist to the effect that his test results were not valid. He never did understani this interpretation, and I went to great lengths to explain the exact definition of the term. I indicated to him that because he is native, he probably does not understand several of the items and that cultural differences probably account for the fact that he cannot fit into White Caucasian American norms. I added that this was not meant to indicate a lack of cooperation on his behalf nor was the statement derogatory.

He continues to maintain his innocence. He added that he had received information three months ago which he referred to as a "leak in the bucket" which will continue to grow and will eventually exonerate him from guilt. This information came about in the following manner. His sister's boyfriend was drinking with a black individual in Halifax. As they were drinking, the black individual told his sister's boyfriend of an incident in which he had himself stabbed an individual some ten years ago, and that another individual, an Indian, had finished him off. He says that the fact that there are two wounds in this individual's story will exonerate him, since the pathology report indicated only one stab wound. This he interprets would be claim that this individual who's telling the story was the one who actual stabbed the individual.

Also, he indicated that psychiatrists and psychologists during this sentence have attempted to "brainwash" him into believing that he had in fact committed this offence, and he has had to struggle to maintain his own conviction, with respect to his innocence.

He believes the authorities should not be concerned about him as an escape risk or otherwise a dangerous person. He alluded to several temporary leaves of absence during which there were no incidents. He described the one in which he and others became intoxicated as yet, being a very controlled situation. He said that when they were asked to get into the van to return to the institution, none of them protested, in spite of the fact that they were highly intoxicated. He certainly believes that he will be paroled in the first half of 1982.

8. Recommendations — Recommendations

I asked him directly if he intends to seek revenge with this person whom he believes is the actual perpetrator of this offence. He said that he would not seek revenge; that the individual should never cross his path and threaten him. He added, to my probing, that he would probably not assault this individual if he met him casually, or even offered apologies for his own mistreatment. He is thinking of options such as asking this individual to testify under the Canada Evidence Act, and so on. Obviously this issue of innocence is not yet over. I suspect that he seeks this aura of innocence to regain the confidence of his family and community. I believe that he feels he has greatly shamed these people through his behaviour and now feels alienate and rejected by them and this is his way of cleansing his reputation. If this hypothesis were true, it would probably avail valuable to promote the recement:

10. of his relationsh	ips with his	family an	d the community.	11. Date	a manamica

PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES REFERRAL REPORT

If indeed he felt reaccepted by them with untarnished integrity, he might drop this whole issue, or at least, it would take less of a priority placement in his goals.

Overall, I found him tense, with short and rapid respiration, rigid posture, and so on. He probably would benefit from innoculation training and relaxation training, but his emotional condition and thought processes are probably responsible for this ongoing condition, rather than some physiological or physical habit formation with no underlying emotional base. He impresses as a paranoid personality "not psychotic or even prepsychotic" but certainly an apprehensive, sensitive and suspicious person who is not easily fooled. Because of his obvious behavioural discomforts and rather significant unresolved concerns in his mind, he still appears unventilated and one suspects that given very appropriate conditions and lesser controls (perhaps because of chemical abuseor aseries of stressors) the anger and hostility may be vented in an uncontrolled manner. It is, of course, always difficult to predict whether this would take verbal expression or physical abuse.

An accumulation of social stressors may in fact have decreased his tolerance for frustration leading to extremely violent behaviour in this immediate altercation.

EDUCATIONAL/VOCATIONAL TRAINING: Junior upgraded his education to grade ten in Dorchester. He has taken plumbing and welding trades, and is now working on getting his ticket for plumbing. He returned to school for several weeks in the fall of 1981 to study the mathamatics he will need to write his examination.

INDLOYMENT: He has worked in several shops over the years, and has received good work reports. Since his most recent admission to Dorchester, he has Leen with maintenance plumbers and in school.

LERSONAL DEVELOPMENT: During the past nine years Junior has been preoccupied With his appeal - working for it, trying to get money to pay for it, giving up on it, following up new leads for it. He denies committing the offence and consequently has not put much effort into the area of personal development. Resides being immersed in his appeal, Junior was a bit too active in institutional life at Springhill. He was a high profile inmate whom other immates, and staff as well, turned to because of his control over a large lart of the population. He was involved in muscling immates for debts and drugs. He did well and followed case plans for periods of time, but would recome frustrated and end up in dissociation and secregation. Because of recome frustrated and end up in dissociation and segregation. Because of this, he will probably never be able to return to Springhill. (see memo dated 21 06 24 for notes on the case conference held at Springhill). The realization that he has cut off one, (probably the best) avenue of release seems to have made him a lot more serious about working on himself. He has been interviewed by the psychologist (see report dated 81 12 16 on psychology file), and he has finally taken the necessary steps to prepare for his plumbing exam. Unfortunately, his abandonment of hope for his appeal was short-lived. A visitor told him about new evidence, and Junior says that he knows who committed the offence for which he is serving a Life sentence. But again, after much consideration, he has indicated that he will leave the matter to the law, and spend his time concentrating on getting a parole.

FAMILY/COMMUNITY: Junior has maintained contact with his family and friends. they correspond, he phones, and they visit him.

THANSFER/FELEASE/SUPERVISION: MARSHALL was admitted to Dorchester (72 06 20) and transferred to Springhill (74 ll 04). He was granted a day parole to attend the Atlantic Challenge Program in 1979. The first time (August 8-18) went well. Ten days after his release the second time (September 14), he was declared unlawfully at large. He was returned to Springhill, then transferred to Dorchester (81 02 11), transferred back to Springhill (80 04 22), and cace again transferred to Dorchester (80 10 31). He applied for but was legied in unascorted temperary absence to visit his parents at Christmas, 1921.

EMPLOYMENT: He is back in the Maintenance Plumbing Shop. He is waiting for arrangements to be made to have him write his apprenticeship papers in Nova Scotia.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT: Little has changed in this area. Jr. is still working on his appeal. He will need Psychological and Psychiatric assessments when he applies for parole.

FAMILY/COMMUNITY: Jr. maintains contact with his family, friends, and other native community members.

TRANSFER/RELEASE/SUPERVISION: Jr.'s application for an unescorted TA at Christmas was denied. His CMT has been developing plans for a parole, and he will soon submit his application form.

LEISURE: Jr. plays hockey. He is a member of the Community Center but is not involved in any of the activities.

MARSHALL, Donald (FPS 410481A)

The Board received information this date of a possible confession having been obfained by the RCMP at Sydney, which would prove that this inmate is innocent of the charge of murder for which he is presently incarcerated.

I spoke with S/Sgt. Al Ross, RCMP Sydney, on this date. S/Sgt. Ross confirmed that the investigation had in fact been re-opened. He indicated that although a confession had not been obtained, sufficient new information had been uncovered to warrant referral to the A.G. for decision as to whether some action should be considered to reverse the conviction of Marshall. Report should be in the hands of the A.G.'s department in a week or so.

ATTENTION: Mr. J. Stewart

Dear Sir:

Re: Donald Marshall, Jr.

I wish to confirm that I act for Donald Marshall, Jr. who I understand is presently eligible for parole. Certain information has come to me which suggests that Mr. Marshall's conviction for murder may not be proper.

Recently the Sydney Detachment of the R.C.M.P. has completed an investigation of Mr. Marshall's case. The investigation was done by Staff Sergeant H. Wheat on and Corporal Jim Carole. Although the results of the investigation are not primarily concerned with whether Mr. Marshall was guilty or innocent of the murder of Sandy Seale, there was apparently evidence to indicate that the two key witnesses who testified against Mr. Marshall were in fact lying.

It is my understanding that the R.C.M.P. report of the investigation will be in the Attorney-General of Nova Scotia's office some time this week. I have requested a copy of this particular report, but frankly do not expect to receive it.

Mr. Marshall has never during his eleven years in penitentiary admitted to having committed the murder. There would now appear to be support for his denial. I have personally spoken to Sergeant Wheateon who can be reached in Sydney at 539-7121.

I would ask that the Parole Board make every effort to obtain a copy of the investigation to ensure that his request for parole takes into account all of the circumstances. In addition, I would also ask that I be present at the Parole Board hearing to assist Mr. Marshall in his Application.

I would most appreciate it if you would be so kind as to keep me advised as to the status of the Application and whether you have obtained a copy of the R.C.M.P. investigation. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Yours very truly,

Stephen J. Aronson

MARSHALL, Donald

Dorchester.

Donald (Junior) Marshall was convicted on November 5, 1971, of the murder of Sanford Seale, at Sydney, Nova Scotia, on May 28, 1971. He was arrested on June 4, 1971. Day parole eligibility was June 4, 1978, and full parole eligibility was June 4, 1981. Subject has been granted two limited day paroles. The first was June, 1978, to the Atlantic Challenge Program it passed without incident. A second day parole to a one-week Atlantic Challen Program in September 1979 ended in Mr. Marshall failing to return, being convicted of having been unlawfully at large, and being awarded a sentence of four months consecutive (!). He later stated that he had eloped in order to work on his appeal, but admitted he had done little in this regard during the two days he was UAL. He was apprehended in the Pictou area without incident. On the advice of his case management team, Mr. Marshall applied for day parole to the Carleton Centre on January 31st, 1982. The community adsessmen was requested from the Carleton Centre, and, although it has not yet been received, telephone conversations indicate that Mr. Marshall will be accepted by the Carleton Centre. Certain problems, to be discussed below, have been shared with Mr. Marshall, including the necessity of his accepting house rules until his legal difficulties have been disentangled. His penitentiary career has not been without incident, but all incidents in the past seem to have been related to his hopes for an appeal of his conviction, hopes which were consistently dashed during the period between 1972 and the present. He has been considered a likeable and earmest inmate who has not succeeded in overcoming his desire to prove himself innocent, and, in the process, irritating many case workers who wished to persuade him to forget th obviously hopeless appeal and to devote his energies instead to the immediat task of getting himself out.

Therefore, because he has been accepted by the Carleton Centre and because he is considered at least an average day parole prospect, I am recommending that he be granted day parole to the Carleton Centre.

with respect to Mr. Marshall's case, recent, and persuasive, evidence has been unearthed that he is, in fact, as innocent as he has claimed to be, with one exception, since 1971. His story, with the exception of an admission of guilt in 1975, has not altered. He stated that both he and the victim were attacked by another assailant, identity unknown, who stated that he had no une for negroes or redskins, before stabbing Donald Marshall in the arm with a knife and fatally wounding the victim with a stable to the abdomen.

Two eye-witnesses contradicted Mr. Marshall's own evidence; since both stated definitely that they had seen Mr. Marshall stab the victim, their evidence was considered conclusive.

It ow appears that the previously unknown assailant has identified himself, and has supplied the investigating police with evidence of his own guilt. This evidence is now in the hands of the Attorney General of Nova Scotia, who plans to take action on it.

Although these recent events are materially affecting the speed of case preparation, the recommendation for day parole granted is based on the ground cited above. Mr. Marshall is considered a relatively good day parole candid and the Carleton Centre is prepared to accept him. Therefore, the case management team recommends that he be granted day parole.

COMMUNITY CONTACTS

Mr. Marshall's file was received at the Carlton Centre on the 11th of March 1982 for a community assessment and consideration by the Carlton Centre Selection Committee.

At the time the request was generated, Mr. Marshall was being supported by the case management team, based on noticeable improvement in his behaviour and application in Dorchester Penitentiary, and the belief that it was time in his case to begin developing a pre-release plan.

The area of greatest concern was Mr. Marshall's total denial of guilt in his offence, and his frustration with staff, attempting to deal with him in this area.

Since the arrival of Mr. Marshall's file at the Carlton Centre, we have been contacted by Mr. Steve Aronson, who has for the past several months, been acting on behalf of Mr. Marshall. In a letter received March 15, from Mr. Aronson, we were informed that a new RCMP investigation into Mr. Marshall's offence had been completed with the results forwarded to the Attorney-General's Department in Nova Scotia. Mr. Aronson states in his letter that while the investigation was not concerned primarily with Mr Marshall's guilt or innocence, there was "apparently evidence to indicate that the two key witnesses who testified against Mr. Marshall, were, in fact lying".

This letter prompted contact with Mr. Gordon Gayle, of the Attorney General's Department, who was able to give more information on the content of the investigative report. The information received from Mr. Gayle was relayed by telephone on March 23, 1982 to the National Parole Board and case preparation office in Moncton, and will be included in a confidential information report to follow this telex by Purolator. The Attorney General's Department is presently reviewing the case very carefully, and is investigating action under Section 617 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

This information obviously changes the format, content and approach to the community assessment, requested when the file was first forwarded. In brief, the Carlton Centre Selection Committee is prepared to support Mr. Marshall's day parole and accommodate him immediately upon being granted day parole.

As stated above, a C.I.R. will be forwarded along with the letter by Mr. Aronson, as I do not believe the information contained would be suitable for transmission by telex.

If you require any further information or action, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Community assessment	March 24, 1982		* 1

This C.I.R. is being submitted because certain information came to light during the course of the community investigation, which should be thoroughly considered in Mr. Marshall's day parole hearings.

This information was relayed by telephone and this C.I.R. will act as written documentation.

On March 14, this office was contacted by Mr. Stephen Aronson, an attorney acting for Mr. Marshall, who informed us that he had been working on a new investigation by the R.C.M.P. into Mr. Marshall's offence, and that certain information had come to light. Mr. Aronson was interviewed that day at the Carlton Centre, and at the request of this writer, delivered by hand, the following day, a letter which is enclosed.

Based on the contents of the letter received from Mr. Aronson, the National Parole Board was contacted, as was the Regional Director General, through the District Director, Halifax office. The Board, at the time of contact, was aware that an investigation was being undertaken, and were also aware of some of the preliminary findings.

Mr. Gordon Gayle, of the Attorney-General's office, Nova Scotia was contacted on the 23rd of March 1982, to determine, what if anything, in the report he could share with this office. Mr. Gayle cooperated wich this writer, and while I could not receive a copy of the police investigation, he did say that he had "good reason to believe that Mr. Marshall did not kill Mr. Seale". As the conversation progressed Mr. Gayle informed me that their department was reviewing the case carefully and that they were examining Section 617 of the Criminal Code of Canada, to determine what their best course of action would be.

According to Mr. Gayle, all evidence they have at this time points to a Mr. R. Ebsary, a resident of Sydney, as the individual that they would be possibly charging once the conviction of Mr. Marshall had been dealt with. When asked how sure they were of Mr. Ebsary's actions, on the night of the offence, Mr. Gayle informed me that Mrs. Ebsary had turned over a knife or knives to the R.C.M.P. in Sydney, and that fiber analysis had been undertaken. The result of the analysis showed that fibers were still on the knife and that under analysis the fibers matched perfectly with clothes worn by the victim, Mr. Seale, and by Donald Marshall on the night of the offence. His assessment of this evidence was that it supported Mr. Marshall's version of the offence, and pointed very strongly to Mr. Ebsary.

Mr. Aronson and Mr. Marshall's family are understandably very anxious to get him out of prison and have the conviction overturned, preferably by the Royal Prerogative of Mercy. In addition, the press in Cape Breton are aware that an investigation by the R.C.M.P. was conducted into the Marshall case, and are pressing very hard for more information. Emotions in this case and the fact that Mr. Marshall's father is the Grand Chief of the MicMac Nation provide all the ingredients for a media circus . If Mr. Marshall is granted a day parole to the Carlton Centre, our main goal will be to buffer him as much as possible, and attempt to establish a support system outside the Centre in the event that action is forthcoming to overturn his conviction.

Mr. Aronson and Mr. Marshall's family are very aware of the difficulties that Mr. Marshall will experience on returning to the street, after such a long period of incarceration and fear the added impact of the inevitable publicity this case will generate. They have agreed to cooperate as much as possible with the Case Management Team at the Carlton Centre, who will be attempting to work with Mr. Marshall, should he receive a day parole.

If you have any further questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

DAY PAROLE GRANTED

We are dealing with this file on an urgent basis for two reasons:

- After 11 years of incarceration, the subject will need some reorientation to the community and depending on how long the process of reversing his conviction takes, he can have a short or a relatively lengthy time at Carleton Centre to accomplish the re-adjustment.
- 2) Although his case management team reports that he is bearing the tension reasonably well, it is felt that he will have difficulty coping with the attention he is going to get from other inmates now that his case is receiving considerable press attention.
- 3) For purely humanitarian reasons, at is almost certain the subject is innocent and I think the Board should give him as much freedom as the law allows, commensurate with the desirability of a gradual release.

Subject failed to return to the Carlton Centre at 23:59 hours July 4, 1982 as required on granting of special pass re telex of June 28, 1982.

Subject returned to the Carlton Centre at 2135 hours on Monday, July 5, 1982. At this point, subject was interviewed by Jack Stewart, Superintendent, Terry Hatcher, CMO, and subject's counsellor, Gerry Smith.

Subject related that during the stay at Restigouche N.B., they had played six games of softball and on Sunday, July 4, 1982, he had pitched a double-header which concluded at about 2130 hours on that date. Part of the team with which subject was travelling ... stayed overnight with the Chief of the Restigouche Reserve until 1200 hours on July 5, 1982. At this point, they began travelling by private motor vehicle to Halifax, stopping at the Millbrook Reserve in the Truro area to let off a couple of passengers. He then proceeded directly to Halifax. Upon arriving in Halifax, subject went directly to his girlfriend's place to eat and clean up and telephoned the Carlton Centre at 2120 hours. He was, at this point, instructed to report in person at the Centre. During his travelling time to the Centre, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Hatcher were both informed and up-dated and informed me that they were on their way in directly. At 2200 hours, a meeting and interview was held with subject until approximately 2330 hours. After subject related the events of his overstay and understood the seriousness of his failure to make earlier contact with the Centre, when he realized that he would be unable to be at the Centre at 23:59 hours of July 4, 1982. The interview ended on the note that subject would be subject to a form of disciplinary action in the immediate future.

MARSHALL, Donald Jr.

All staff involved are comfortable that subject clearly understands his position here at the Centre and are sympathetic. However, our positions were clearly spelled out to subject and that we would not be prepared to overlook any further infractions and demand his cooperation on all issues.

It is understandable under the prevailing circumstances of this unique case that subject is undergoing severe "bumps" and at various stages, he simply "shuts down" and begins to cope. His coping mechanisms appear to be that of mentally acting in a manner which allows subject to live free as if there are no prisons to be responsible to: This is not viewed as being too dangerous and subject is constantly being made aware of and reminded of his commitments to day parole.

At this point, subject is being monitored on a daily basis. Subject is currently working full time during the summer months with the Department of Northern/ Indian Affairs and wants to live out in the community and report to the Centre. At this point, we are not fully prepared to support this request and are intent on protecting subject from himself and others, thus allowing subject to adjust more easily in the free community.

If further information is required, please feel free to contact the undersigned.

RECOMMENDATION: NO ACTION.

Canada

A couple of sessions were held with subject for the purpose of determining the precise level of academic standing. This testing, in part, was conducted by Canada Manpower. To date, it remains incomplete and subject is too anxious to attempt further testing, pending the final outcome of the judicial proceedings.

EMPLOYMENT

Subject is presently employed full-time for the summer months with the Department of Indian and Northern Affairs, working out in the field, doing an educational survey of native people.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Subject enjoys a social drink and occasionally imbibes (never to excess). He is learning hard fought for patience and general acceptance. In general subject has adjusted greatly to the free community and to date, nothing negative has transpired that I am aware of that could be classified as a hinderance to subject's progress. Subject enjoys many females' company and of late, is becoming very serious about one lady in particular. This relationship is currently viewed as positive for subject. Progress in this area, considering the length of freedom, under day parole, has actually been tremendous.

PAMILY

Regular contact is maintained via telephone and family members, as well as reserve members, coming to Halifax for visits, get togethers etc. To date, all have been positive.

TRANSFER

Pull release as soon as possible.

LEISURE

This time is spent in the health field of sports participation, jogging, softball and spectator sports. Subject swims, go fishing, and camping on weekends during days.

Our recommendations at this point are for a five and two day parole, sleeping in. In this case, subject would be seen at least three times in person during the five days in the community, and would sleep in the Carlton Centre the other two nights.

This request is being made at this point in time to help alleviate any unnecessary stress which subject is experiencing pending the final disposition of the current judicial inquiry. Subject will be closely monitored should the recommendation be granted, and this writer will keep abreast of subject's whereabouts and community involvements.

DAY PAROLE GRANTED (5 & 2)

COMMENTS:

I have discussed this case at length with Jack Stewart at Carleton Centre and have decided to attempt to treat it as an ordinary lifer case. This is difficult to do, partly because by the time the Board's decision is made, the subject could be removed from our jurisdiction. (That is, if his lawyer is successful in his application for bail which is due to be heard on July 29th.)

The subject has a job with Indian Affairs and has acquired some rooms in Halifax where he spends time during the day and on his weenend passes. He has a girlfriend. He also has a "guide", assigned by his band, whose main job appears to be a buffer between the subject and the outside world.

He has begun to "chafe" under the restrictions of C.C.C. residence, and under the disappointment resulting from the slow process of getting his case into court. But apart from the late return to Carleton Centre on one occasion, he has honoured the conditions of his day parole very well.

If he is granted a five and two day parole he will continue to be seen almost daily by centre staff members.

CONFIDENTIAL:

I do have some concern that our "generosity" in granting day parole may have relieved the urgency with which the criminal justice system might otherwise have handled this case. In spite of that, however, I think he has earned an expansion of his day parole and we should not deny it except for reasons related to
